You have just been given the principal's job for one week. What are the new ideas you would like to introduce. (Remember, you are now the boss.)

My first idea I would like to implement as principal would be to make the school days short. They would start at 9am and finish at 2pm. I would also ban homework on the weekends.

New Principal, you have been asked to come up with the lyrics for the opening paragraph of your school's new hymn. It should reflect the values of the school.
